

Launch of educational videos and resources to guide end of life conversations

WHEN : Friday 10th March 2023
09:30 – 12:30

WHERE : Ulster University
Belfast campus | York Street | Belfast
Room: BD-00-011B

RSVP : <https://Launch-CCRG.eventbrite.com>

(NB: places are limited)

This event will focus on the launch and showcasing of evidence-based educational videos for health and social care professionals on how best to support parents who are at end of life with cancer regarding their dependent children (<18 years old).

At this event, delegates will:

- learn about the programme of work in family-centred cancer care end of life education (FCCCEoLEd) at Ulster University, which informed the evidence-base for these resources
- view the educational videos
- learn about the co-creation of the educational videos with a bereaved parent and Lyric Theatre, Belfast

There will be a panel discussion as part of the launch.

Individuals who have a professional role in providing care and support to families when a parent of dependent children is at end of life with cancer are encouraged to attend.
